Sharing your Healing Story with Others

"By His wounds you are healed."
Isaiah 53:5

WHY YOUR STORY IS SO IMPORTANT

For many Guests at The Well the thing that persuades them to come for prayer is a friend saying to them: 'Why don't you go to The Well? God did this for me while I was there'. Word of mouth—is so important!

Your story also has a power to it. The Bible is clear that people speaking out about what God has done in their life (called testimony) has a power in the same way prayer does. Just by telling one other person what God has done for you could make a difference in the world. Amazing!

Writing your story can also be part of your own healing. If we have been ill for a long time and have been healed, it is a good thing to write it down and say 'on this day I can say I am no longer ill.' It is like putting a marker down by the road on a journey—you are saying at this point this happened and life will now be different in the future as I leave that season of my life behind me and move on.

HOW YOUR STORY WILL BE USED

When we get your story we read it through—it makes our day in the office just to read it!

Please be assured that your name won't appear alongside your Story. We may need to edit the story, especially if it is long. As a guideline we only need about 150 words from you.

After that we may use the story on our website or in our newsletter. We often read the stories out to our prayer team to encourage them. When we are out speaking in churches or training prayer teams we will tell them what you've written, but would not name or identify you. It is always such an encouragement to them.

Thank you
